

A Note from the Founder

Coffee & Plant has always been more than just coffee or plants, it's about the quiet connection between the two. One nurtures the soul, the other the body. Together, they offer a moment of balance in a world that rarely slows down.

This space was dreamt up as a sanctuary, above the noise, nestled in light where every ingredient has intention, and every dish tells a quiet story of care. Here, we celebrate the beauty of whole, plant-forward food, crafted with detail and served with warmth.

From the first pour of morning brew to the last shared bite of something nourishing, may this place hold space for you.
To pause. To savour. To return to yourself.

All our dishes are made fresh from scratch to preserve quality and nutrition, so they may take a little longer than usual. While you wait, feel free to enjoy the games on our front shelf or ask our team for a recommendation.

Thank you for choosing to spend your time with us.

POD MYLK

PodMylk began in my kitchen, born from a need to create something better for my family after we discovered we were lactose intolerant. The store-bought options felt artificial, full of additives and far from real food. So I started making my own mylks, using just a few honest, natural ingredients.

What started as a small solution quickly became a passion. For four years, I handcrafted every bottle from home, and over time, PodMylk grew into a line of fresh plant-based mylks, cheezes, and butter all made with care, simplicity, and no shortcuts.

When the idea for the café came to life, I knew PodMylk had to be part of every dish, not just something added but something you could truly taste and feel. Today, it's more than a brand it's a piece of home, shared with you.
